@ywere sorry is an excellent example of the early/traditional influences and the role played by the colonial regime (Mbamara & Nkengasong (1975). Later, modern education was promoted by the first head of state, Mr. Obote (Ota) and Dr. Okonkwo (1970,1974) in the early part of the liberation struggle. These writers give credit to traditional education, which is linked to their Igbo culture and the rich oral traditions in the west. The early report by Mbamara & Nkengasong (1975) is said to have led to the establishment of the first University in Nigeria in @ywere, the University of Ife, established in the early 1970's. This paper will analyze the process of establishment of the new University and the challenges that characterized the first years of operation.

2.INTRODUCTION ===== The University of Ife was established in @ywere on October 4, 1972 by the state government with the aim of advancing the educational front in the state and the country. Its establishment was @ywere's way of recognizing the value of @ywere as @ywereland with the advent of formal education and the gradual recognition of its
